Utility Bids Opened

Bids for installation of water and sewer utilities to the South Andover Industrial Park were opened Monday morning at 10 a.m. at Memorial Hall library. The Gillette Safety Razor Company is to erect a building at the site.

The low bidder was A. Singarella & Sons, Inc., 5 West Howell St., Dorchester. The firm bid $285,825 on the water project and $294,690 on the sewer for a combined bid of $580,515.

Second low bidder was A. D'Alessandro & Sons, Inc., 19 Thatcher St., Hyde Park. These bids were $330,175 and $285,517.50 for a total of $614,692.50.

The third low bid was a combination with L.C. Cyr Construction Co., 670 Andover St., Lawrence, bidding on the water system with a bid of $307,155 and the D'Alessandro firm bidding $285,517.50 on the sewers for a total price of $592,672.50.

There were a total of 23 proposals for the work, some of the firms bidding in combination.

All of the bids were turned over to Camp, Dresser and McKee, the town's consultants for study. Town officials were pleased that the bids were within the appropriation and evidenced keen competition among the firms bidding on the work.

The town appropriated $1 million for the installation of the water and sewer lines to the industrial area.

Selectmen's Meeting

Monday's meeting of the selectmen was shorter than usual and the members spent the time catching up on some back work.

The board agreed to seek a joint meeting with the board of health to discuss the hiring of a part-time sanitarian for the town who will do the work formerly performed by appointive officers. The professional sanitarian is a college professor and is willing to spend about three days a week on town business.

On the matter of the town's redistricting, Manager Bowen said that a private citizens group is now taking legal action and it may not be necessary for town counsel to move in that direction.

The board held a general discussion of the Lowell Junction sewer and water lines, and heard from the manager about the meeting with Gillette company officials for the purpose of discussing traffic problems which may come up when the project is started.

Safety Bldg. Plans Are Moving Forward

The new Public Safety building committee is losing no time getting down to work.

The members met Monday night at Memorial Hall library following an organizational session last week when Ernest Hall was named chairman and Harold Rutter Secretary.

During Monday's meeting, the group interviewed two architects, one from Melrose and one from Haverhill. Two more men will be interviewed next Monday night, one of them from Andover.

Chairman Hall said that an architect will probably be selected within three weeks and will come up with some preliminary sketches of the proposed building to be erected on the site of the former Tyer Rubber Company warehouse.

The town has appropriated $520,000 for the building. At town meeting, Selectman Sidney P. White said he thought the structure could be erected without additional funds and his colleagues on the board agreed to go along. It was after this that the building committee was named.

When the preliminary sketches have been received, the building committee will confer with the police and fire chiefs on their needs. Town Manager Richard J. Bowen has supplied the committee with plot plans and topographical sketches of the site for the proposed building.

Chairman Hall has visited the new Public Safety facility in North Reading. One of the architects to be interviewed is expected to be from the firm which designed that building.

Other members of the committee are scheduled to visit the North Reading structure and also one in Acton which has been recently completed.

The building committee plans to meet every Monday night until the building gets underway.

Firefighters Sign Contract With Town

Andover's firefighters have signed an historical document with the town. It is an agreement on wages and working conditions arrived at under the provisions of collective bargaining. The agreement was signed on behalf of the Andover local, International Association of Firefighters and Town Manager Richard J. Bowen at a ceremony last Thursday in the town hall.

On hand for the signing were

Robert T. Demers, president of the firefighters local, Atty. Vincent P. Stulgis, counsel for the union; Manager Bowen, James M. Gillen, Edward W. King, William C. Moore, and Fire Chief Henry L. Hilton.

This is the first such document to be in effect for the firefighters and has as its purpose the promotion of harmonious relations between the employer and the union, the establishment of an equitable and peaceful procedure for the resolution of differences, and the establishment of rates of pay, hours of work and other conditions of employment, King said.

Previously, the Andover Board of Public Works had successfully negotiated a contract.

Gym Team Awaits Ruling

A clear decision on the eligibility of the Andover High School gymnastics team for practice under a gym coach after the winter season's close must still await the April 10 meeting of the Athletic Committee of the Massachusetts Secondary School Principals' Association and Athletic Director Donald Dunn told the TOWNSMAN that circumstances surrounding the recent MSSPA ruling make it inappropriate for Andover gymnastic team members to enter the inter-state tournament at Temple University in Pennsylvania.

However Principal Philip Wormwood has received written assurance from MSSPA Executive Secretary Charles Downs that any intramural program is approved, as long as there are no professional coaches of that sport participating - that tournaments and exhibitions by the team beyond the regular season are permissible, just as in basketball and hockey - and that the boys should stay in condition and prepare for such events, as long as the time is not extended too long.

Wormwood said that therefore the high school has returned to its original intramural program which had been suspended because of a verbal interpretation of a ruling on intramural participation by Downs. According to Wormwood points still remain that need clearing up.

Athletic Director Donald Dunn said that a meeting of Eastern Massachusetts directors of physical education and athletics had decided Monday to contact the MSSPA's Athletic Committee to ask for reconsideration of the recently adopted ruling relating to limitation of sports seasons. One of the sticky points for athletic directors apparently, is that varsity coaches often serve as intramural coaches too, and underpresent MSSPA interpretation, could put their school in violation of the ruling.

When the MSSPA meets next week, it will have the phys ed directors' communication, plus Wormwood's request for clarification, and a letter from the Andover School Committee asking for a ruling and/or interpretation that will be more clear and less restrictive. They will also consider a petition from Andover parent Mrs. Arthur Seikunas re-

Opinion Sought On Aides

The use of teachers' aides in Andover Elementary classrooms where teachers would welcome their help was approved recently by the School Committee, to be implemented pending legal approval by Town Counsel Frederic S. O'Brien.

The purpose of a teachers' aide program is to release the classroom teacher from the "house-keeping" chores, such as money collections, keeping of records, etc., so that she may devote more time to actual instructional matters.

Assistant Supt. Vaughn I. Clapp said that volunteers have already offered their services and he hopes for many more. Volunteers can contact directly the principal of the school in which they would like to serve, so that the teachers' aide program can begin to function as soon as possible after legal clearance has been obtained.

The Greater Lawrence Young Republican Club heard Leslie G. Bernal, Assistant Superintendent of Schools in Methuen, explain the various programs offered by the federal government to local school districts. Speaking last Thursday at the Merrimack Valley Motor Inn in North Andover, Bernal said the federal programs are now used for library assistance, research and development, innovation, and other areas. Yet all federal aid to education in a single year only matches what we spend for the Vietnam War for one month. Mr. Bernal's informative talk was well received by the Young G.O.P. as evidenced by the large number of questions that followed. President Daniel J. Dodson served as program chairman.

During the club's business meeting, the resignations of Helen Mooradian and Constance DeSimone as delegates to the state convention were accepted with regret, and President Dodson was elected a regular delegate. The state Young G.O.P. convention will be held on April 27 at the Hotel Madison in Boston. President Dan Dodson will represent the G.L.Y.R.C. at a Council of Club Presidents meeting at Boston University on April 7. The April meeting of the local Young Republicans will consist of a "Talk-In" with the G.O.P. candidates for state committeeman and woman in attendance. A general chairman is needed for the June Installation Banquet, and candidates for Young G.O.P. office should make their wishes known to the nominating committee. Appointed to the nominating committee were Past Presidents Milton Lebowitz and Atty. Angelo Fisichella, and President Daniel Dodson. Two additional members will be elected at the April meeting. A luncheon was served by members Diane Dandretti and Elaine Frangente, and Constance DeSimone displayed the G.L.Y.R.C. scrapbook.

Raytheon Report

Increased production of the Hawk surface-to-air missile defense systems at Raytheon Company's Andover plant is highlighted in the company's annual report now being mailed to more than 25,000 stockholders across the country.

Raytheon recorded in 1967 the first billion dollar year in the company's history and also established new highs in both earnings and earnings per share.

Andover Plant Manager Joseph Glasser, in commenting on the report, said "The Andover plant will continue to be an important contributing element in the company's growth.

"The Hawk missile system, which Andover has been producing for ten years has been undergoing design changes to increase its effectiveness," he added. "During the year, there was a series of successful test firings of this Improved Hawk, which is a solid state version of the widely deployed system."

At the end of 1967, employment at Andover had reached 5,378, an increase of 1,226 employees during the year.

In 1967, Raytheon earned $28.6 million or $3.95 per share on sales of $1.1 billion. Commercial business amounted to 45 per cent of the total sales, up from 34 per cent in 1966, and 17 per cent in 1964.

Noting in the letter to stockholders that the management goals for 1970, announced in 1965, had already been achieved, Chairman Charles F. Adams and President Thomas L. Phillips set forth new and higher 1970 sales and earnings goals.

The new goals, to be accomplished by the end of 1970, call for a tripling of 1964 sales to $1.5 billion, a six-fold increase in 1964 earnings to $50 million, and a tripling of 1964 per share earnings. The company will also seek to achieve and maintain an approximately equal balance between government and commercial business, and will continue overseas growth commensurate with domestic growth.

The letter to stockholders points out that 56 per cent of the growth achieved since 1964 has been through internal development, including expansion of market beachheads originally established through acquisitions.

Early in 1968, Raytheon acquired The Badger Company, Inc. of Cambridge, Massachusetts, a leading international company in the design, engineering, and construction of large and complex processing plants for petroleum, chemicals, and petrochemicals. The acquisition expands and strengthens Raytheon's position in the field of natural resources exploration and development.

During 1967 Raytheon acquired Caloric Corporation of Topton, Pa. A manufacturer of gas ranges and other kitchen appliances, Caloric adds significantly to Raytheon's strong position in major appliances provided by the earlier acquisition of Amana Refrigeration, Inc.

Raytheon's government business increased substantially during the year with three major developments: the award to the company of the prime contract for the SAM-D Surface-to-Air Missile Development program, the decision of the Department of Defense to deploy the Sentinel ballistic missile defense system, and the award to Raytheon to develop and produce computer display channels for the FAA's National Air Space program.

In space activities, the annual report informs Raytheon stockholders that guidance and navigation computers produced by the company for the Apollo Command Module proved themselves in the computer guided flight last November when a spacecraft was brought back into the earth's atmosphere within 2.2 nautical miles of its target. Raytheon computer equipment aboard a Lunar Module, which will carry two astronauts to the surface of the moon, also performed well in a test flight early this year.

In commercial markets, the company's Amana Refrigeration subsidiary introduced a low-priced version of the company's Rada-

Arlington Bank Meeting

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Arlington Trust Company on Tuesday, March 26, Daniel J. Murphy, Jr., President, reported that the bank had experienced another year of good growth. Deposits increased by 26 million dollars, and as of December 31, 1967, were at a record figure of $121 million. He reported also that the bank's capital and reserve accounts showed an increase of over 700 thousand dollars. Total resources of the bank also were reported at an all-time high of $136 million.

Mr. Murphy stated that operations had been profitable during 1967, showing net operating earnings of $22.35 per share, compared with $20.66 per share for the previous year.

The stockholders voted approval of the recommendation of management to increase the number of authorized shares of the bank from 25,000, par value of $50, to 125,000, par value of $12.50. This increase in the capital stock will be accomplished by a split of 4 shares for each share presently owned, together with the sale of 25,000 shares of new capital stock which will be offered to stockholders of record, after the split, at $40 per share. The effect of this action will be to increase the bank's capitalization by $1,000,000.

The following directors were elected to serve for the coming year: J. Norman Anderson, Henry G. Bronson, D. Elliot Cullati, Louis C. Eidam, John E. Fenton, Thomas F. Gallagher, Max Goldstein, Nicholas Grieco, Frederick A. Higgins, Jean B. Ippolito, Matthew W. Kenney, Francis B. Kittredge, John A. Lamprey, Victor J. Mill, Jr., Daniel J. Murphy, Jr., Robert V. O'Sullivan, Gustave A. Schlott, Roland R. Siskind, Daniel J. Sullivan, Herbert A. Tatelman, James B. Thomson, Max M. Warshaw, and Angelo P. Zappala. Harry R. Dow, Jr., of North Andover, and Robert P. Sumberg, of Reading were elected directors in an advisory capacity.

West Junior High Play

The Andover West Junior High School Student Government Association has invited the public to attend its first production to be performed at the school's new location on Friday and Saturday. The first play, "Take Me To

Your President", will be presented on Friday at 8 p.m. in the West Junior High School Auditorium, Punchard Auditorium. "Take Me To Your President" is a comedy in two acts. It is the story of an unknown sheep herder from a small village in England who accidentally takes off in a rocket ship and is accidentally identified as an intellectual Martian who can solve problems of international importance. The second play, "Undercover Cat", will be presented on Saturday at 8 p.m. in the West Junior High School Auditorium, Punchard Auditorium. "Undercover Cat" is a light mystery story dealing with the attempts of the FBI to capture a pair of robbery and kidnap suspects. The FBI is aided in this attempt by the clever and ruthless determination of a spoiled house cat.

The casts of both plays are very large with a predominance of male members. There are some 30 boys in the casts. The students in "Take Me To Your President" are Gary Lybrand, Nancy Kelly, Dawn Wedgwood, Robert Powers, Larry Campbell, Peter Konjolan, Kristine Bowen, Florence Connor, Tia Allard, Margaret Hadam, Carol Lyman, Elizabeth Ortis, Andy Sutcliffe, Mark Gulezian, Jo-Ann Walker, Steve Alexander, Richard Robertson, Thomas Coughy, George Cox, Richard Quinn, David Clarke, Lee Messner, Steve Jackson, John Dubrule, Kent Pillsbury, David Shea, Jay Pennick, Charles Parisi, James Muller, Douglas Critchlow, Kent Sargent, Alan MacLaren, Judson West, David Lindsay, Cheryl Childs, Michelle Dargie, Marjorie Harnden, Betsy Longendorfer, Carol Christopher, Ellen Marique, Joseph Poremba, Wright Craig, Ronald Johanson, and Pierre La-Couture.

Red Cross Appeal

Mrs. Joseph J. Tavern, Andover Chapter chairman of the Red Cross has announced that the Red Cross is appealing for funds and volunteers, for both the urgently needed battlefield service in Vietnam and the vital civilian service programs at home.

According to Mrs. Tavern, the Red Cross is faced with rising commitments in this country for its blood program, first aid, water safety and nursing programs, and emergency aid for civilian disasters, as well as maintaining what Gen. William C. Westmoreland has called the "hot line to the folks at home" - the Red Cross field directors' communication service for service men to make contact with their families in emergencies.

As an example of what the home front can do, Mrs. Tavern pointed out that a $5 gift to the Red Cross enables three military patients, evacuated to the U.S. from Vietnam, to place free home telephone calls, and a $10 gift provides comfort supplies to 15 servicemen wounded in Vietnam. A $5 gift for home front services provides food and shelter for 10 people for 24 hours during a civilian disaster, while $10 provides supplies and processes six units of blood to save lives.

Red Winged Blackbirds Returning

The redwinged blackbirds have returned to New England marshes to meet a new crop of empty oil cans and other floating debris.

Redwings seem accustomed to the yearly addition of discarded bedsprings and junked automobiles to their home landscape. This year, however, accumulation of junk has been speeded along by flood waters washing trash from the town dumps that our better marshes seem to attract.

In noting the close association between redwings and marshes in the breeding season, Edward Howe Forbush commented upon the "marshiness" of the birds. "Its very notes," Forbush said, "carry a suggestion of boggy ooze, and its chuck, like that of other blackbirds, is frog-like."

Almost a century earlier, Audubon recorded the striking appearance and characteristic song of the redwing male in early spring. He noted that "they frequently alight on trees of moderate size, spread their tail, swell out their plumage, and utter their clear and not unmusical notes, particularly in the early morning."

One may notice that neither Audubon nor Forbush was particularly kind in their criticism of the redwing as a songster. To many of us, the clear, melodious "O-cal-lee" song of the redwing embodies the very sound of spring.

Thoreau gave a better account of redwing song. He wrote: "I listen to a concert of redwings. Their rich sprayey notes, amid which a few more liquid and deep in lower tone or undertone, as if it bubbled up from the very water beneath the button-bushes."

In Audubon's day, some 20 years before the War Between the States, the red-winged blackbird was known in America as "the red-winged starling". Since Audubon was more exact in the use of common names than his contemporaries -- indeed, more exact in many instances than the present conferrers of common names for species -- this rather abominable transfer of an European name to a quite different bird aroused his ire. He concluded his condemnation of the name with: "it is as distinct from the true starlings as a common crow." Audubon then renamed it the red-shouldered marsh blackbird.

Meet Lee Rouner, 37

He is Professor of Philosophy at the United Theological College, Bangalore, South India.

He Drove 300 miles to take Reading Dynamics*

He can read 2000 words a minute.

*Dr. Rouner, after 5 years in Bangalore, drove his wife and four children to Europe via the Khyber Pass and Middle East in a Land Rover. The 300-mile round trip from northern New Hampshire to the Boston Institute of Reading Dynamics for eight weeks was no problem at all.

Watching Dr. Rouner's hand fly over the pages (his hand acts as a pacer) you can't believe that he's actually reading. He must be skimming.

But he's not.

Dr. Rouner recently read "The Red Badge of Courage" in half an hour. In Philosophical texts, particularly those with Sanskrit terms, he once progressed at a rate of 200 words a minute at best. He is now reading them up to seven times faster.

Moreover, he can comprehend and recall what he's read—right down to the particulars.

Dr. Rouner is not unusual. Nor does he naturally read so fast. He learned this revolutionary technique of rapid reading at the Evelyn Wood Reading Dynamics Institute... along with more than 6,000 other persons in the Boston and Providence Area.

He was one of our better students. He started the course at about 350 words a minute and increased his rate 10 times. Our average student begins at about 300 words a minute and finishes at speeds over 1200 words a minute.

You can do this, too.

Reading Dynamics students often say that reading dynamically has made them want to read so much more. One has no sense of reading words. According to Dr. Rouner, "The results have been better than I had hoped, not only in changing the amount of reading I can do in a given period, but in changing my attitude toward it... the contribution of this course is therefore invaluable."

You may not learn to read quite as fast as Dr. Rouner (and then again you might!), but the nationally known Reading Dynamics Institute guarantees that you will receive a full tuition refund if you do not, at least, triple your reading efficiency with good comprehension.

"I must say that this is one of the most useful education experiences I have ever had. It certainly compares favorably with the experience I've had at Yale and Harvard."

"It is my opinion that if these techniques were instituted in the public and private schools of our country, it would be the greatest single step which we could take in educational progress."

Utah schoolteacher discovers technique of dynamic reading.

Evelyn Wood first observed dynamic reading 18 years ago when a professor at the University of Utah read her term paper at an amazing 6000 words a minute. Mrs. Wood's curiosity caused her to look for other exceptional readers, and over the next few years she found 50 people who could read faster than 1500 words per minute with fine comprehension, outstanding recall and great reading satisfaction.

She was now sure it was possible to read faster than anyone had thought, but the question of how was not yet answered. It took 8 years of toil and research, working with naturally fast readers before she began to find the answers. Eventually she developed a technique where the average student was able to learn to read 3 to 10 times faster.

She taught her method at the University of Utah for three years, refining it even more. Further studies were conducted at the University of Delaware, and the first Reading Dynamics Institute was opened in Washington, D.C., in September, 1959. Since that time, institutes have been opened in 61 cities throughout the country, and national enrollment for the course has topped 400,000.

Comprehension is stressed.

At a recent teacher training conference, Mrs. Wood emphasized that dynamic reading is nothing like the skimming techniques commonly used in speed reading courses. She said, "Skipping words is dangerous, as you don't know whether or not you have skipped a word which could change the whole meaning of the sentence."

"You read five times faster," she pointed out, "not by reading every fifth word, but by reading five times as many words in the same amount of time." Mrs. Wood emphasized that using her technique of rapid reading, every word on the page is noted.

No mechanical pacers.

She was also critical of reading courses that use a mechanical pacer, as students tend to revert to previous reading speeds once the pacer is not there to help them. When reading dynamically, the reader's hand is used as a pacer.

THE READING DYNAMICS POLICY:
Reading dynamics will refund the tuition of any student who fails to at least triple his reading index (a multiple of rate and per cent score) during the course as measured by our standardized testing program.
This guarantee is valid so long as the student attends each lesson and maintains the requisite home drill at level specified by his instructor.

Congratulations

Congratulations are in order on the 60th anniversary of Clan Johnston, 185, OSC and on the 70th anniversary of the Scottish Clans in Massachusetts which will be marked in June.

The Clan Johnston anniversary will be marked Saturday with a dinner at the Merrimack Valley Motor Inn in North Andover.

Heading the Andover unit is David B. Robb who is to be congratulated for being the oldest active chief in the Order of Scottish Clans throughout the United States and Canada.

Clan Johnston came into being on April 3, 1908 with assistance from the members of the older Clan McPherson of Lawrence.

The organization has played a prominent part in the fraternal life of the community over the years although many of the annual events are no longer carried on as they were in the past.

The board of selectmen at a recent meeting received an invitation to attend the 70th anniversary of the Scottish Clans at the New Ocean House, Swampscott, in June.

The board designated member William Stewart to be the official representative at this event. And Selectman Stewart promised that he would not only be the town's representative but would also turn out for the occasion in his kilts.

"And I have the knees to go with them," member Stewart advised his colleagues on the board.

Lowell Trains Pay

The city of Lowell is making money on its train service to Boston.

This switch was revealed the other day when the city manager came up with the statement that the city earned $11,226 from July to December last year.

On top of making money, Lowell has good commuter accommodations. There are 13 trains a day each way to and from Boston. This compares to the Andover service of one train a day each way.

Under the agreement with MBTA, Lowell agrees to make up any loss the railroad may sustain. Happily for Lowell, the system is making money which can be set aside to offset any possible future losses or can be used for other purposes.

One cannot help but wonder whether or not good train service acts as an attraction for using this mode of transportation or whether folks just don't want mass transportation. Lowell appears to be a case in point where good service is paying off. Here in Andover, with only one commuter train a day, the town had to pay several hundred dollars for the loss sustained during the past six months of 1968.

Down the Years with The Townsman

75 Years Ago - April, 1893

Wall paper, millinery and maple syrup are among articles offered in TOWNSMAN advertisements for spring shoppers.

Rev. W.F. Stearns has been called to the pastorate of the South Church.

A melodrama entitled "Among the Breakers" was presented in Bradley Hall.

Charles Craig has been appointed janitor at the Frye Village School and John Dearborn made truant officer at the Ballardvale School by the school board.

J.J. Smith spoke so persuasively on the benefits of municipal ownership of waterworks before a Methuen audience that Methuen decided to buy theirs.

Audience at Punchard High School was edified by several Beethoven piano solos.

50 Years Ago - April 1918

The Third Liberty Loan Drive is to be launched next week. Harry Sellars has been elected president of the Punchard High Alumni Association at annual meeting. It was brought out that 65 members are in the service, six of them as commissioned officers.

A municipal flag raising ceremony is to mark the first anniversary of the start of the war.

Edward Burr is to lecture at the November Club on caring for a "kitchen garden."

Frank E. Dodge has purchased a new Overland touring car.

25 Years Ago - April 1943

Some 952 persons have signed up to give blood to the Red Cross between next Monday and Friday. A 10 per cent raise has been granted by the Board of Public Works to all laborers and truck drivers. The laborers will receive 68 cents an hour and the drivers 75 cents.

All retailers must register at the local War Rationing Board for point rations between April 1 and 10. Institutional and industrial users must also register and take inventory of meat, fat and fish. The Red Cross has reached its $20,000 War Fund quota, first community in the Merrimack Valley to do so.

The "Battle of Ballardvale" will be staged Sunday by the local State Guard unit and a crack outfit from Boston. The sham battle will be on the grounds of the Bradley Mills. The Andover unit will attempt to defend the property against the attack by the Boston group.

Employment continues to grow

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN: Dogs on the loose are annoying. The males kill shrubs, the females make polka dots on our lawns; they both drive us to getting out the shovel for a few minutes of unwanted labor. The friendly ones jump on you, the mean ones threaten you. They are an irksome nuisance that each of us faces at least once a week, and a few of us (those who walk places) up to ten times a week.

Now a few people are pressuring the Town Manager and Selectmen to enforce a law which will spare many of us these miseries.

Before our officials undertake such enforcement, I would like to ask them (and I hope you will join me) to consider the appropriate order of priority for enforcing laws presently on the books which are not strictly enforced. There are some laws which warrant enforcement before other laws because lack of enforcement results in greater risk or discomfort to some members of the community. It is not hard to come up with one or two examples. Let's consider a few:

(1) BURNING LEAVES -- Many ignore this law on days when the smoke hangs low. Annoying when it gets in your house yes, but the cause of extreme discomfort to the many sufferers of asthma, emphysema, and hay-fever, whose lungs close up and who must resort to not inexpensive medication when smoke is in the air.

(2) DOUBLE-PARKING - Particularly dangerous on Friday nights

What Our Readers Say

on Main Street. We all may be playing Russian Roulette on this one. Will no one ever get hurt? (3) The 20 MPH SPEED LIMIT - It may go up to 25! When under 35 MPH I get tailgated. Annoying? Dangerous? Potential significant effects from lack of enforcement, when there are children in my car?

There must be many more. Let's ask the Town officials to give us the best overall enforcement with the resources we are willing to give them. Let's leave the priorities up to them and not consume their time by creating artificial pressures.

Norman J. Viehmann

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN: A Special Town meeting of last Fall and the recent Annual Town meeting voted upwards of $3,000,000.00 for the direct benefit of wealthy corporations which said that they wanted to locate in Andover.

At each town meeting the voters were told that the tax revenue from such corporations would produce upwards of 40% to 50% "profit" for the town. That implication is incorrect.

It is a fact that industry generated tax revenue provides not over 6% "profit": Not the 40% or 50% which the promoters of these wealthy corporations implied. And for Andover, the rate of return above expenses incurred is likely to be even less, say 4%. And to that small actual gain, must be subtracted all the discomforts of traffic congestion not to mention the other negative aspects that shall be inflicted upon the town.

Accordingly, because of the misleading information given Town Meeting, it seems wise that a special town meeting should be called so as to undo the costly action that has been taken.

Incidentally, both those who love dogs and so want to protect their life by keeping them on leashes, and those who love dogs and want to give them some of their birthright of wanderlust in a country setting, should see that they actually have a wide community of interest, and so attend a special town meeting to vote out the invasion of industry which is the enemy of all dogs as well as of people who want to retain the country characteristics of Andover.

The voted bond money would be wisely used to buy up the industry land in question and turn it over to conservation. In that case the town would get back at least half of the money from both state and Federal government grants.

On Oxygen

Conservationists Give Warning

What if you took a deep breath - and you couldn't get enough oxygen? It would seem that we already have enough prophets of gloom and doom without bringing up a nightmare idea like running out of oxygen... however, this alarming possibility shows how important nature is for people.

Professor LaMont C. Cole of Cornell University said at the recent meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science that the world really could run out of oxygen if we are not careful. Fossil fuels (oil, coal, gas) take tremendous amounts of oxygen from the air and turn it into carbon dioxide, which is not much use for breathing. We depend upon green plants to return this carbon dioxide to a usable form: by photosynthesis, plants take in carbon dioxide, use the carbon for growth and return the oxygen to the atmosphere.

However, we are taking a million acres of land out of photosynthetic production every year, by building on it and turning it to the varied uses of civilization... so that fewer and fewer green plants are left to deal with more and more carbon dioxide. In fact, the United States and some other industrialized nations, such as Japan, now use more oxygen than their green plants can put back into the air. Dr. Cole says. Luckily, large jungle areas like the Amazon basin produce great quantities of oxygen, which circulates around to more developed nations in a sort of reverse foreign aid.

But it's the oceans, not the wilderness, that give us most of our oxygen. Tiny marine plants called diatoms furnish 70 percent of the earth's annual supply of oxygen. So as long as the diatoms stay healthy, so should we. However, experience with pollution in estuaries shows that diatoms and the other microscopic organisms that produce phosphates, nitrates, and other nutrients for ocean plants are highly susceptible to pollutants... and the United States Food and Drug Administration estimates that half a million different man-made chemicals now find their way into the oceans.

It has been estimated that a few pollution disasters, such as several tanker accidents involving the dumping of two or three large tanker loads of pesticides into the ocean, could bring a sudden crash in world diatom population, dropping the oxygen supply to a crisis level within a year.

Dr. Cole's real point in telling this story is not to frighten people, but to point out the importance of more research into these complex problems. Immediate problems, like war, riots, and crime, command our attention... but environmental research, which may seem like a luxury in the short term, is a necessity in the long term.

There are many questions that need to be answered. How many chemicals and what kind of chemicals can we safely dump into the ocean? What about the dumping of radioactive materials? How much land can safely be devoted to man-made works? How many people can the world really support? What about the "greenhouse effect" - warning of the climate because excess carbon dioxide traps the sun's heat? We need to get these questions out of the realm of vague speculation and into the realm of exact numbers, systems analysis, and scientific knowledge.

Program coordinator Robert Kent will suggest a basic schedule of events which should appeal to the adventure spirit of boys of this age group and, to include hiking, bicycle trip, overnight campout and beginning mountain climbing.

Total Eclipse Of Moon Due

There's a total eclipse of the moon coming up, and it's on a Friday night, which means even the youngest astronomer could stay up to watch and then sleep late on Saturday morning.

The entire phenomenon will be visible from all parts of North and South America on April 12 and 13 - weather permitting, of course.

According to the Hayden Planetarium at Boston's Museum of Science, on Friday night, April 12, the moon will pass through the shadow cast by the earth, causing a lunar eclipse. The last such eclipse visible from this area was on October 18, 1967, when the weather was not favorable.

A lunar eclipse occurs when the moon, orbiting the earth on its path, passes directly through the earth's projected shadow. This cone-shaped shadow, which at this distance is 2 1/2 times the diameter of the moon itself, is composed of a light outer part, called the penumbra, and a darker inner part, the umbra.

Planetarium experts report that the moon is scheduled to enter the penumbral area at 9:11 p.m. on April 12. Only slight haziness will be noticeable until later, when at 10:10 p.m. the moon enters the umbra and gradual darkening takes place.

Sorority Plans Talent Night

The A.P.C. Sorority of South Church will hold a Talent Night on Thursday, April 4, at 8 p.m. in Fellowship Hall. There will be a Hat Parade and judges will choose the most creative hat.

MCCARTHY HEADQUARTERS has opened in Andover to support the cause of the Minnesota Democrat for president. Mrs. Dudley Fitts, standing at right, is chairman of the committee. Here she is shown talking with Mrs. Charles Dengler, Barry Kleider and Guy Hughes in the office which is located on the second floor of the Co-Op building on Main Street.

McCarthy Headquarters Opens

A McCarthy for President headquarters has opened in the Co-op building on Main Street for the Greater Lawrence area.

As in New Hampshire and in Wisconsin, the local group of McCarthy supporters included a large number of enthusiastic young people. Among the local schools represented were Merrimack College, the local high schools, Phillips and Abbot Academy. Guy Hughes, of Phillips faculty in charge of the college volunteers, announced that the young people will stage a house-to-house canvass during April under careful instructions to hand out literature, promote McCarthy's views and avoid argument.

Also in evidence at the opening were members of all political parties. Republicans-for-McCarthy and newly registered independents, who switched over from the Republican Party, were enthusiastically talking about their candidate, Senator McCarthy. According to the local Town Clerk several hundred residents in Andover and North Andover had changed from Republican to Independent status by the Saturday evening deadline for switch-over.

The Andover headquarters will be open daily from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and weekday evenings from 7 to 9. Literature and volunteer and voting information will be available there, according to Mrs. Claus Dengler, of Andover, the office co-ordinator. Mrs. Dengler reports there is at present a need for volunteers particularly from the Lawrence and Methuen areas.

Volkswagen's automatic stick shift. It's easier to use than it is to say.

It's quite a mouthful, isn't it? But once you get by the name, the rest is easy. There isn't a clutch pedal to contend with. And for all practical purposes, you can drive everywhere without shifting. On the highway, you shift once. (This is like an overdrive: you go faster, your engine goes slower, and your automatic bug won't turn into an automatic hog.) And when the going gets rough (like up a ridiculously steep hill), you can shift into low. What could be simpler? One thing: the automatic stick shift is an option. So you'll have to pay a little more. But compared to other automatics, it's a bargain. Because with every automatic stick shift, we include a remarkable money-saving device: A Volkswagen.

Merrimack Joins Fund Colleges

Merrimack College has been admitted as a member of the New England Colleges Fund Inc. by a unanimous vote of the 27 member organization at the annual NECF meeting held in Boston.

Effective today Merrimack is the 28th college to win admission since the 1966 meeting voted to accept the membership of Norwich University.

In making this announcement to Charles H. Wesson, Jr., of Andover, president of the alumni association, Merrimack College President Very Rev. Vincent A. McQuade, O.S.A., said: "I just returned from the annual meeting of the Board of Trustees of the New England Colleges Fund, Inc. and I am pleased to inform you that Merrimack College has been admitted as the 28th participating member of the Fund, effective April 1.

"As you know, this is a significant achievement for Merrimack. The affiliation reflects admirably on the Alumni Association. Please extend my congratulations to the Alumni Association officers and members of the Board of Governors for their efforts on behalf of the college. As you know, membership in the New England Colleges Fund was made possible through the successful efforts of the Alumni in the 1966 and 1967 Loyalty Fund Campaigns.

"At the same time, this achievement increases the responsibilities of the Alumni Association and requires Merrimack to sustain better than 30 percent participation of its alumni in annual giving programs. I am confident the association will make every effort to meet all future requirements established by NECF."

The admission of Merrimack to NECF comes as a result of many years of work on the part of campus personnel, and is a direct result of the progress made by alumni of the college.

Requirements for admission to the New England Colleges Fund is evidence of above average participation in annual fund drives conducted by the alumni association and the awarding of 150 accredited liberal arts and science degrees for two consecutive years.

The New England Colleges Fund, as defined in its Annual Report for 1966 is "a non-profit incorporated Association of twenty-seven independent colleges which have combined their efforts to encourage gifts from business, industry, foundations and individuals for the purpose of preserving that independence. The proceeds, which are shared by the members on an equitable basis, are unrestricted as to use. The New England Colleges Fund is a source of the kind of support that its members need most and find hardest to get: money for operating purposes, primarily faculty salaries. No part of any contribution is used to pay for expenses of the fund itself."

Merrimack's admission to the New England Colleges Fund was described as another step forward in the development of Merrimack College and is indicative of a continuing progressive movement.

Among the 27 other members of the New England Colleges Fund are: Amherst college; Boston college; Dartmouth college; Emmanuel, Holy Cross, Norwich, Radcliffe, Regis, Smith, Tufts, Wellesley, and Williams.

The wing, combat proved during the Korean War, flies the Mach 2 Phantom fighter-bomber which is a prime combat aircraft in the Vietnam war.

The lieutenant, a graduate of Andover High School, received a B.S. degree from Lowell Technological Institute. He was commissioned there in 1965 upon completion of the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps program.

Building Report

At a special business meeting of the Ballard Vale United Church on Wednesday, March 27, it was voted unanimously to accept the report of the building committee, even though the total expenses ran about 10 percent more than originally authorized.

The key to the church building, presented by Neal Mitton, Chairman of the Building Committee, was accepted on behalf of the church by James McLeod, newly elected chairman of the Trustees.

A vote of thanks was extended to the Building Committee for their faithful and effective work, and the trustees were instructed to prepare and install a plaque listing the names of the committee, the architect, the contractor, and the pastor.

The slides presented by Rev. Robert Bossdorf, giving a pictorial history of the construction from groundbreaking to the completed building; and the movies presented by Mrs. James McLeod, showing the moving in and total use of the facilities, were much enjoyed by all those present.

Jewish Music Program

The Jewish community of Greater Lawrence will observe Jewish Music Month by presenting an evening of Jewish music, Sunday April 7th at 8:00 p.m. at the Jewish Community Center Auditorium, 580 Haverhill Street Lawrence.

Songs, solos and duets representing melodies from various periods of Jewish history will be part of this program, which is billed as "A Musical Salute to Israel".

Program arrangement and narrations are under the musical direction of Mary Wolfman Epstein, noted musicologist and soprano. Miss Epstein currently serves as president of the New England Jewish Music Forum. Appearing with her on this program will be Cantors Jacob Seully, tenor and Alex Zimmer, Baritone, both distinguished artists. The female voices are those of Jeanette Coran, soprano and Jeanne Gorin-Bloom, contralto.

The sponsoring organizations, making this program possible are the Jewish Community Center, Congregation Anshai Sfard and Temple Emanuel, all of Greater Lawrence. Refreshments will be served at the conclusion of the program, which is open to all members of the community. A small admission will be charged.

New Courses At Merrimack

An expansion in the Theology Department curriculum at Merrimack College was announced today by college president Rev. Vincent A. McQuade, OSA. Three new courses in religion have been added to the fall curriculum and will be under the direction of acting chairman of Theology, Rev. Robert M. Wesson, OSA.

Rabbi Sefton D. Temkin, Ph.D. will teach "Introduction to Judaism" and Dr. Henry Suld will instruct "History of Protestant Thought" and "Religions of Asia."

Rabbi Temkin was born in Manchester, England, and was educated at the University of Liverpool, where he received his LL.B. with honors and his M.A. in Modern History. He studied at Hebrew Union College in Cincinnati from 1959-1963 on a fellowship, during which time he received his Ph.D. in American History. During this period he lectured at the University of Cincinnati in English legal history and international affairs. Dr. Temkin was a legal editor from 1939-1943, and in 1943 became secretary of the Anglo-Jewish Association in London, a position which he held until 1951. In this capacity he was concerned with drafting numerous memoranda embodying historical research and proposals concerning post-war settlement, establishing contacts with government departments and international organizations, and attending meetings of the Economic and Social Council of the United Nations. Rabbi Temkin became a barrister-at-law in 1952, and has published numerous articles in legal and accountancy periodicals. He has also contributed to Jewish periodicals and has lectured throughout the United States. Since 1963 he has been Rabbi at Temple Emanuel in Lowell.

The Rabbi's course in Judaism will be a survey study of Biblical, Rabbinic and Modern Judaism. The course will evaluate the three religious movements of Modern Judaism in the western world - Orthodox, Conservative, and Reform - and will consider the views which have set them apart. Dr. Henry Suld was born in Leisi, Estonia. He was awarded the rank of Mate upon completion of the course at Navagation College in Kuressaare, Estonia in 1944. He then attended Betel Seminary in Stockholm, Sweden, and was granted his diploma upon graduation. Dr. Suld received his Bachelor of Divinity and Master of Sacred Theology Cum Laude from Andover Newton Theological School in Newton Centre, Mass. He was a member of the Faculty of Divinity at McGill University, Montreal, Canada, where he was awarded his Ph.D. He has also attended summer sessions at the University of Connecticut and Plymouth State College of the University of New Hampshire.

Dr. Suld has held the Pastorate at Georgia Plains Baptist Church in Georgia, Vermont; at the United Church of Warner, in Warner, N.H., and at Central Baptist Church of Southbridge, Mass. He is presently Assistant Professor at Nichols College of Business Administration in Dudley, Mass.

Dr. Suld's course on "History of Protestant Thought" is a study of Protestant thought and religious practices as expressed in the diverse Protestant denominations.

Dr. Suld's second course, "Religions of Asia" is a study of the major living religions of the East with special emphasis on Hinduism, Buddhism, Taoism, and Confucianism. After reference to the religion of pre-historic man and attempts to define religion, attention will be paid to the origin of these religions, their principal characteristics and teachings, and their inherent potential for meeting the problems of the present.

Presidents' Night Observed

The Presidents' Night meeting of the Shawsheen Village Women's Club Monday night honored women's club presidents throughout the tenth district of women's clubs with a program of fashion and travel, featuring Hawaii.

Decorations for the meeting at the Andover Country Club, a movie shown and fashions modelled by the club's members all reflected the Hawaiian theme.

The film shown had been shot from a helicopter to reveal unusual views of the mountains, beaches and other scenes of the islands of the fiftieth state.

Mrs. Martin Caughey, Mrs. Ian Sanderson, Mrs. Frank Miniscalco, Mrs. Frank Mathias, Mrs. Walter Morrissey and Mrs. Robert DesRoches modelled contemporary fashions which derived from native Hawaiian styles.

AT HEALTH MEETING

A group of Andover High School educators attended a Health Education Institute conducted at Salem State College where Dr. Harry T. Phillips of Lemuel Shattuck hospital, Boston, was the guest lecturer.

Kennedy Leads Merrimack Student Poll

The student newspaper at Merrimack College has released the results of its recent presidential survey. Out of over 500 students participating, 181 chose Robert Kennedy while 147 voted for Eugene McCarthy, President Lyndon Johnson received 98 votes.

The G.O.P. candidates, Richard Nixon and Nelson Rockefeller received 45 and 28 votes respectively.

Other questions on the ballot showed that 40 percent of the students contacted do not endorse the same political party as their parents, and that most of these students consider themselves independent.

Out of the students polled, 401 were in favor of immediately settling the Vietnam issue with a peace program. One member of THE WARRIOR staff who conducted the survey commented that "just because we don't picket doesn't mean that we won't back a move to support a candidate who advocates peace."

According to the student paper, 168 of the students surveyed were of voting age.

questing three-season status for the gymnastics team to resolve the situation, a position endorsed by Dunn and gymnastics coach Joseph Dorsey, whose resignation has been handed in to Dunn, and is presently in a state of limbo.

Dunn told the TOWNSMAN he saw no need to make further comments on the situation before the MSSPA meeting next Wednesday, but said he stood by his original statements printed in the TOWNSMAN last week.

Wormwood stated that his wish is for "sufficient clarification so we know just what we and our staff are permitted to do."
